INTEGRITY DIVIDEND HARVEST FUND

DEAR SHAREHOLDERS:

Enclosed is the report of the operations for Integrity Dividend Harvest Fund (the “Dividend Harvest Fund” or “Fund”) for the year ended July 31, 2020. The Fund’s portfolio and related financial statements are presented within for your review.

The period saw the S&P 500 TR Index (“S&P”) return 11.96%. Many may consider the positive return surprising considering the year was immersed in trade war fears, recession fears, widespread rioting over social concerns, and, most notably, the global economic shutdown caused by COVID-19. A likely reason for the market’s resiliency was the expedited response by the U.S. Government and the Federal Reserve, who made fiscal and monetary moves, the likes of which haven’t been seen since the Great Recession. Investors felt confidence knowing such large actors could move so fast and, ultimately, protect financial markets. COVID-19 had not disappeared by the end of the period, and it is yet to be seen what moves will be necessary going forward.

The U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics reported that the unemployment rate dropped to a 50-year low of 3.5% in September 2019. The rate remained low until the effects of COVID-19 economic shutdown took hold. The unemployment rate spiked to 14.7% in April 2020. The rate has been steadily declining since then, ending the period at 10.2% as businesses began to re-open.

The Federal Reserve’s Federal Open Market Committee (“FOMC”) dropped the target range of the federal funds rate by 0.25% at each of the July, September, and October meetings in 2019 due to concerns of a possible economic slowdown. The FOMC dropped the target range another 0.50% on March 3, 2020, as the full impact of COVID-19 was coming to light. Twelve days later they dropped the rate to 0%. The Federal Reserve has also been buying assets, including new types of assets that they haven’t purchased in the past, and expanding their balance sheet. It appears, for now at least, that these monetary moves have had a positive impact on financial markets.

During the period, information technology was the best performing sector, led higher by mega-cap giants like Apple and Microsoft. Consumer discretionary was the next best, containing the stand-out performer Amazon. Investors heavily preferred growth over value. The worst performing sector was energy. Investors had already feared too much supply and too little demand growth even before COVID-19 forced many to halt all travel. Due to oversupply, a barrel of oil actually traded in negative territory for a short time during the period.

The Fund’s total returns for Class A, C, and I shares were -2.39%, -3.13%, and -2.14%, respectively, for the year ended July 31, 2020, while the S&P gained 11.96%. The Fund is in the Morningstar Large Value category which returned -5.37% over the same time period. While the Fund outperformed its Morningstar category, it underperformed the S&P. The Fund’s underperformance relative to the S&P was primarily driven by an underweight allocation to information technology and an overweight allocation to energy. Aiding relative performance was stock selection in industrials.

The Fund seeks to maximize total return by emphasizing high current income with long term appreciation as a secondary objective, consistent with preservation of capital. The Portfolio Management Team (“Team”) considers dividend yield, dividend growth rate, earnings growth, price-to-earnings multiples, and balance sheet strength. The Team emphasizes dividend yield in selecting stocks for the Fund because we believe that, over time, dividend income can contribute significantly to total return and is a more consistent source of investment return than appreciation.

*Performance does not include applicable front-end or contingent deferred sales charges, which would have reduced the performance. The total annual fund operating expense ratio (before expense waivers and reimbursements and including acquired fund fees and expenses) as of the most recent fiscal year-end was 1.50%, 2.25%, and 1.25% for Class A, C, and I, respectively. The net annual fund operating expense ratio (after expense waivers and reimbursements and excluding acquired fund fees and expenses) as of the most recent fiscal year-end was 0.95%, 1.70%, and 0.70% for Class A, C, and I, respectively. The Fund's investment adviser has contractually agreed to waive fees and reimburse expenses through November 29, 2020 so that total annual fund operating expenses after fee waivers and expense reimbursements (excluding taxes, brokerage fees, commissions, extraordinary and non-recurring expenses, and acquired fund fees and expenses) do not exceed 0.95%, 1.70%, and 0.70% for Class A, C, and I, respectively. This expense limitation agreement may only be terminated or modified prior to November 29, 2020 with the approval of the Fund's Board of Trustees.

INTEGRITY ENERGIZED DIVIDEND FUND

DEAR SHAREHOLDERS:

Enclosed is the report of the operations for the Integrity Energized Dividend Fund (the “Energized Dividend Fund” or “Fund”) for the year ended July 31, 2020. The Fund’s portfolio and related financial statements are presented within for your review.

Market Review

The period saw the S&P 500 TR Index return 11.96%. Many may consider the positive return surprising considering the year was immersed in trade war fears, recession fears, widespread rioting over social concerns, and, most notably, the global economic shutdown caused by COVID-19. A likely reason for the market’s resiliency was the expedited response by the U.S. Government and the Federal Reserve, who made fiscal and monetary moves the likes of which haven’t been seen since the Great Recession. Investors felt confidence knowing such large actors could move so fast and, ultimately, protect financial markets. The virus had not disappeared by the end of the period, and it is yet to be seen what moves will be necessary going forward.

The U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics reported that the unemployment rate dropped to a 50-year low of 3.5% in September 2019. The rate remained low until the effects of the COVID-19 economic shutdown took hold. The unemployment rate spiked to 14.7% in April 2020. The rate has been steadily declining since then, ending the period at 10.2% as businesses began to re-open.

The Federal Reserve’s Federal Open Market Committee (“FOMC”) dropped the target range of the federal funds rate by 0.25% at each of the July, September, and October meetings in 2019 due to concerns of a possible economic slowdown. The FOMC dropped the target range another 0.50% on March 3, 2020, as the full impact of COVID-19 was coming to light. Twelve days later they dropped the rate to 0%. The Federal Reserve has also been buying assets, including new types of assets that they haven’t purchased in the past, and expanding their balance sheet. It appears, for now at least, that these monetary moves have had a positive impact on financial markets.

During the period, information technology was the best performing sector, led higher by mega-cap giants like Apple and Microsoft. Consumer discretionary was the next best, containing the stand-out performer Amazon. Investors heavily preferred growth over value. The worst performing sector was energy. Investors had already feared too much supply and too little demand growth even before COVID-19 forced many to halt all travel. Due to oversupply, a barrel of oil actually traded in negative territory for a short time during the period.

Energy Review

The third quarter of 2019 truly proved how anemic sentiment towards crude oil and energy equities had become. During the quarter, there was a strike on Saudi Arabia’s oilfield and infrastructure that shut in 5.7 million barrels of oil per day (“bopd”). The initial move in crude oil was sharply higher, however, within two weeks, crude oil was trading below where it was before the attack. This attack left the markets heavily undersupplied over the third quarter, with estimates as high as a 2.5 million barrel per day deficit, and crude oil fell 7.78% over the quarter. This emphasizes that investors seemed to be solely focused on 2020 demand concerns.

For the third quarter of 2019, the Fund (Class A shares) declined 5.81% compared to a loss of 7.34% for the S&P 1500 Energy Composite and a loss of 10.05% for the Morningstar Equity Energy category. WTI crude oil decreased 7.13% to end the quarter at $54.07 and Brent crude oil decreased 7.13% to end the quarter at $59.25.

The energy sector got off to a negative start in the fourth quarter of 2019, trading lower over the first two months, even as crude oil traded higher. However, December saw a significant snapback for the sector, trading up 7% over the month. OPEC production cuts and progression on the U.S./China trade deal all contributed to the strong December returns for the energy sector. At the beginning of December, OPEC agreed to additional production cuts of 400,000 bopd. Saudi Arabia committed to 170-175,000 bopd, with the rest being split between the remaining OPEC countries. This set a solid floor for crude prices and created a much needed tailwind for the commodity. Additionally, U.S. and China made great progression on “Phase 1” of the trade deal. This was important because its removes uncertainty on the impact tariffs would have on consumption and industrial activity.

For the fourth quarter of 2019, the Fund (Class A shares) returned 3.31% compared to a gain of 5.76% for the S&P 1500 Energy Composite and a gain of 8.06% for the Morningstar Equity Energy category. WTI crude oil increased 14.52% to end the quarter at $61.06 and Brent crude oil increased 14.66% to end the quarter at $66.00.

Over the first quarter of 2020, the energy sector traded down as a result of COVID-19 and the oil price war between OPEC and Russia. The magnitude of COVID-19 on demand was in the range of 20-25 million bopd, a level of demand destruction never seen in history. Adding fuel to the fire, OPEC and Russia engaged in an oil price war, adding several million bopd of production in a fight for market share. The combination of these two events has resulted in an oversupplied market to the tune of 25-30 million bopd. Oil prices cratered during the quarter over concerns of a massive oversupply causing global inventories to fill. Late in March, the oil price war came to an end, with OPEC+ proposing to cut production by nearly 10 million bopd.

For the first quarter of 2020, the Fund (Class A shares) declined 42.41% compared to a loss of 51.63% for the S&P 1500 Energy Composite and a loss of 53.36% for the Morningstar Equity Energy category. WTI crude oil decreased 65.85% to end the quarter at $20.48 and Brent crude oil decreased 58.88% to end the quarter at $26.35.

The second quarter of 2020 turned out to be quite a roller coaster ride for the energy sector. Energy equities and crude oil continued their downward spiral in the month of April, and surged higher in the months of May and June. In April, the energy sector’s underperformance was driven by COVID-19 and the shutdown of the U.S. economy. The recovery witnessed in the latter months of the quarter was driven by a combination of the economy beginning to open back up and oil production curtailments across the globe. Aggressive actions taken by OPEC and Russia helped balance global supply and demand, but low oil prices were needed to shut in additional oil production. Within U.S. shale alone, oil production fell by an estimated two million barrels of oil per day.

For the second quarter of 2020, the Fund (Class A shares) returned 14.29% compared to a gain of 31.88% for the S&P 1500 Energy Composite and a gain of 36.61% for the Morningstar Equity Energy category. WTI crude oil increased 31.82% to end the quarter at $39.27 and Brent crude oil increased 20.92% to end the quarter at $41.27.

In the month of July 2020, crude prices rose 2.76% to close the month at $40.57. The Fund declined 3.11% in July, 3.15% behind the Morningstar Equity Energy category.

The trough in oil demand is likely behind us, given that most countries around the world have begun to reopen. We are a long way from pre-pandemic demand levels, but consumption is beginning to claw back. On the supply front, OPEC’s pledged 10 million bopd production cut combined with other oil production shut ins have balanced supply and demand and aided crude oil prices. With the U.S. rig count down over 60% since the end of March, it is likely U.S. oil production will take time to recover, which will further support crude oil prices domestically. These cutbacks in activity were essential to stabilize oil prices; however, it will likely take into 2021 to normalize oil inventories as tanks filled nearly to the brim during peak pandemic. Going forward, we see incredible value in the energy sector and continue to focus on well capitalized companies with strong balance sheets and sound business models.

The Fund’s total returns for Class A, C, and I shares were -36.02%, -36.37%, and -35.76%, respectively, for the year ended July 31, 2020, compared to returns of -37.37%, -39.07%, and 9.23% for the Morningstar Equity Energy Category, the S&P Composite 1500 Energy Index, and the S&P Composite 1500 Index, respectively. Aiding relative performance was an overweight allocation to chemicals, as well as selection within pipelines. Detracting from the Fund’s performance relative to its Morningstar category was selection within integrated oil companies.

The Fund is in the Morningstar Large Blend category which returned 7.60% over the same time period. While the Fund outperformed its Morningstar category, it slightly underperformed the S&P. The Fund’s underperformance relative to the S&P was primarily driven by stock selection in communication services and utilities. Aiding relative performance was an underweight allocation to energy and stock selection in financials.

The Fund is managed using a blended growth and income investment strategy. The Portfolio Management Team (“Team”) seeks to invest primarily in domestic common stocks, balancing investments between growth & dividend paying stocks, depending on where we see the best value. The Fund's investment adviser has contractually agreed to waive fees and reimburse expenses through November 29, 2020 so that total annual fund operating expenses after fee waivers and expense reimbursements (excluding taxes, brokerage fees, commissions, extraordinary and non-recurring expenses, and acquired fund fees and expenses) do not exceed 1.24%, 1.99%, and .99% for Class A, C, and I, respectively. This expense limitation agreement may only be terminated or modified prior to November 29, 2020 with the approval of the Fund's Board of Trustees.

The table and graph above do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions and redemptions of Fund shares. The graph comparing the Fund's performance to a benchmark index provides you with a general sense of how the Fund performed. To put this information in context, it may be helpful to understand the special differences between the two. The Fund's total return for the period shown appears with and without sales charges and includes Fund expenses and management fees. A securities index measures the performance of a theoretical portfolio. Unlike a fund, the index is unmanaged; there are no expenses that affect the results. In addition, few investors could purchase all of the securities to match the index. If they could, transaction costs and other expenses would be incurred. All Fund and benchmark returns include reinvested dividends. The results prior to August 1, 2009 were achieved while the Fund was managed by a different investment adviser. The current investment adviser may produce different investment results than those achieved by the previous investment adviser.

INTEGRITY HIGH INCOME FUND

DEAR SHAREHOLDERS:

Enclosed is the report of the operations for Integrity High Income Fund (the “High Income Fund” or “Fund”) for the year ended July 31, 2020. The Fund’s portfolio and related financial statements are presented within for your review.

Market Environment

The high yield bond market experienced a historic twelve month period ended July 31, 2020. The high yield market posted six consecutive months of positive gains from August 2019 through January 2020, as the market shrugged off an inverted 2/10s yield curve and an air strike on oil facilities in Saudi Arabia in the fall of 2019. The high yield market posted a strong finish to 2019 year end as phase one of the US-China trade deal materialized in December, and this momentum carried into January and the first half of February. There are three distinct periods to the high yield market in 2020 year-to-date: stability after a strong 2019, a historic sell-off, and a sharp rebound driven by unprecedented monetary and fiscal policy responses. Through mid-February, the high yield market had returned +/- 0% with spreads near cycle lows and with refinancings dominating new issuance. Then, from February 19th to March 23rd, the high yield market experienced its fastest and most severe drawdown on record, bottoming with a year-to-date return of -20.6% as a result of the detonation of oil markets and the spread of COVID-19 that affected all risk assets. Since March 23rd, the high yield market, in conjunction with all risk assets, has rallied significantly as a result of US Government actions and implicit and explicit support from the Federal Reserve (the “Fed”). Additionally, with the gradual re-opening of economies and business activity, investor optimism has increased that the economy has bottomed and will continue to recover. The high yield market increased 3.00% for the twelve-month period ended July 31, 2020 (as measured by the ICE BofAML US High Yield Constrained Index, HUC0) despite spreads widening 116 bps to 523 bps while yields increased 5 bps to 6.07% as the yield on 10 year US Treasuries decreased 148 bps to 0.53%. Higher quality drastically outperformed lower quality, with BBs returning 6.80%, single B’s 0.92% and CCCs -8.99%. The automotive, technology and banking sectors led the contributors to performance while the energy, transportation and leisure sectors, those most affected by COVID-19, led the detractors.

Despite strong new issuance and fallen angels year-to-date, $245 and $204 billion, respectively, technicals remain favorable as the Fed’s support in the market has generated demand and lifted bond prices. For the trailing twelve months, retail bond inflows total $38 billion, as investor demand has surged since late March. New issuance finished 2019 with $287 billion, and 68% was refinancing. Refinancing continued to dominate issuance to begin 2020 before the high yield issuance market was essentially closed during the month of March. The second quarter’s $145.5 billion in gross and $75.5 billion of net issuance were records for a single quarter, compared to the previous record quarters of $121.2 billion (2Q ‘14) and $52.6 billion (1Q ‘15). Additionally, June set the all-time record for a single month gross issuance, pricing $61.5 billion. Default activity increased significantly, although the default rate is still lower than historical recessionary levels and the Fed’s support in the market should suppress defaults. The 12-month par-weighted default rate is now 6.22%, the highest level in a decade and is 409 bps higher than the default rate in July 2019.

With a 3.00% return during the twelve-month period ended July 31, 2020 (HUC0), high yield trailed high grade credit (COA0), 12.01%, U.S. Aggregate (DOA0), 10.40%, 5-year Treasuries (GA05), 9.16%, and emerging markets (EMCB), 5.77%.

Portfolio Performance and Positioning

For the twelve-month period ended July 31, 2020, the High Income Fund returned 3.37% (Class A shares, net of fees), 2.74% (Class C shares, net of fees) and 3.63% (Class I shares, net of fees) compared to its benchmark, the Bloomberg Barclays U.S. High Yield Index, which returned 4.21%, and the Morningstar High Yield category’s median period return of 2.24%. The Fund’s Class A shares underperformed the benchmark for the twelve-month period due to underweight to independent energy in addition to security selection in the wirelines and transportation services sectors. The largest detractors resulted from relative weightings in Occidental Petroleum, EP Energy, Windstream Holdings, Neiman Marcus Group and Western Gas. Alternatively, contributions from an underweight to oil field services in addition to security selection in the wireless and other-REITs sectors enhanced performance for the twelve-month period.

Specifically, weightings in Softbank Group (Sprint), DISH Network, Valaris, HCA Healthcare and Noble Corporation enhanced performance results in the period.

Compared to the benchmark at July 31, 2020, the Fund was overweight in cable satellite, consumer products and healthcare due to our view of the relative value opportunities within those sectors. The Fund was underweight in food & beverage, independent energy and home construction because we have not found these sectors attractive due to challenging fundamental outlooks or rich valuations. Relative to the benchmark at July 31, 2020, the Fund's yield, spread and duration were all lower than those of the benchmark.

Market Outlook

The high yield selloff that started in late February and accelerated dramatically in March has since reversed significantly, driven by monetary and fiscal policy and optimism surrounding a faster than feared global economic recovery. Corporate fundamentals face significant challenges as the economy works back into reopening. The economic impact of COVID-19 is widespread but most significant in travel, leisure, restaurants, retail and casinos, as well as energy. Defensive sectors, particularly utilities, technology and healthcare, have held in well and are mostly trading at pre-COVID-19 levels. Trailing defaults have increased to 6.22% and are expected to continue to rise throughout the year, driven by energy and the weakest issuers in the most affected sectors. These developments overshadow what had been solid credit fundamentals entering the year. Technicals have been very supportive since market lows, catalyzed by the Fed announcing high yield ETFs are eligible for open market purchases. The current economic and market conditions are expected to continue to accelerate fallen angels. Our fundamental research, bottom-up security selection style should allow us to continue to capitalize on market opportunities.

INTEGRITY MID-NORTH AMERICAN RESOURCES FUND

DEAR SHAREHOLDERS:

Enclosed is the report of the operations for Integrity Mid-North American Resources Fund (the “MNA Resources Fund” or “Fund”) for the year ended July 31, 2020. The Fund’s portfolio and related financial statements are presented within for your review.

Market Review

The period saw the S&P 500 TR Index return 11.96%. Many may consider the positive return surprising considering the year was immersed in trade war fears, recession fears, widespread rioting over social concerns, and, most notably, the global economic shutdown caused by COVID-19. A likely reason for the market’s resiliency was the expedited response by the U.S. Government and the Federal Reserve, who made fiscal and monetary moves the likes of which haven’t been seen since the Great Recession. Investors felt confidence knowing such large actors could move so fast and, ultimately, protect financial markets. The virus had not disappeared by the end of the period, and it is yet to be seen what moves will be necessary going forward.

The U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics reported that the unemployment rate dropped to a 50-year low of 3.5% in September 2019. The rate remained low until the effects of the COVID-19 economic shutdown took hold. The unemployment rate spiked to 14.7% in April 2020. The rate has been steadily declining since then, ending the period at 10.2% as businesses began to re-open.

The Federal Reserve’s Federal Open Market Committee (“FOMC”) dropped the target range of the federal funds rate by 0.25% at each of the July, September, and October meetings in 2019 due to concerns of a possible economic slowdown. The FOMC dropped the target range another 0.50% on March 3, 2020, as the full impact of COVID-19 was coming to light. Twelve days later they dropped the rate to 0%. The Federal Reserve has also been buying assets, including new types of assets that they haven’t purchased in the past, and expanding their balance sheet. It appears, for now at least, that these monetary moves have had a positive impact on financial markets.

During the period, information technology was the best performing sector, led higher by mega-cap giants like Apple and Microsoft. Consumer discretionary was the next best, containing the stand-out performer Amazon. Investors heavily preferred growth over value. The worst performing sector was energy. Investors had already feared too much supply and too little demand growth even before COVID-19 forced many to halt all travel. Due to oversupply, a barrel of oil actually traded in negative territory for a short time during the period.

Energy Review

The third quarter of 2019 truly proved how anemic sentiment towards crude oil and energy equities had become. During the quarter, there was a strike on Saudi Arabia’s oilfield and infrastructure that shut in 5.7 million barrels of oil per day (“bopd”). The initial move in crude oil was sharply higher, however, within two weeks, crude oil was trading below where it was before the attack. This attack left the markets heavily undersupplied over the third quarter, with estimates as high as a 2.5 million barrel per day deficit, and crude oil fell 7.78% over the quarter. This emphasizes that investors seemed to be solely focused on 2020 demand concerns.

For the third quarter of 2019, the Fund (Class A shares) declined 7.76% compared to a loss of 7.34% for the S&P 1500 Energy Composite and a loss of 10.05% for the Morningstar Equity Energy category. WTI crude oil decreased 7.13% to end the quarter at $54.07 and Brent crude oil decreased 7.13% to end the quarter at $59.25.

The energy sector got off to a negative start in the fourth quarter of 2019, trading lower over the first two months, even as crude oil traded higher. However, December saw a significant snapback for the sector, trading up 7% over the month. OPEC production cuts and progression on the U.S./China trade deal all contributed to the strong December returns for the energy sector. At the beginning of December, OPEC agreed to additional production cuts of 400,000 bopd. Saudi Arabia committed to 170-175,000 bopd, with the rest being split between the remaining OPEC countries. This set a solid floor for crude prices and created a much needed tailwind for the commodity. Additionally, U.S. and China made great progression on “Phase 1” of the trade deal. This was important because it removes uncertainty on the impact tariffs would have on consumption and industrial activity.

For the fourth quarter of 2019, the Fund (Class A shares) returned 6.35% compared to a gain of 5.76% for the S&P 1500 Energy Composite and a gain of 8.06% for the Morningstar Equity Energy category. WTI crude oil increased 14.52% to end the quarter at $61.06 and Brent crude oil increased 14.66% to end the quarter at $66.00.

Over the first quarter of 2020, the energy sector traded down as a result of COVID-19 and the oil price war between OPEC and Russia. The magnitude of COVID-19 on demand was in the range of 20-25 million bopd, a level of demand destruction never seen in history. Adding fuel to the fire, OPEC and Russia engaged in an oil price war, adding several million bopd of production in a fight for market share. The combination of these two events has resulted in an oversupplied market to the tune of 25-30 million bopd. Oil prices cratered during the quarter over concerns of a massive oversupply causing global inventories to fill. Late in March, the oil price war came to an end, with OPEC+ proposing to cut production by nearly 10 million bopd.

For the first quarter of 2020, the Fund (Class A shares) declined 50.28% compared to a loss of 51.63% for the S&P 1500 Energy Composite and a loss of 53.36% for the Morningstar Equity Energy category. WTI crude oil decreased 65.85% to end the quarter at $20.48 and Brent crude oil decreased 58.88% to end the quarter at $26.35.

The second quarter of 2020 turned out to be quite a roller coaster ride for the energy sector. Energy equities and crude oil continued their downward spiral in the month of April, and surged higher in the months of May and June. In April, the energy sector’s underperformance was driven by COVID-19 and the shutdown of the U.S. economy. The recovery witnessed in the latter months of the quarter was driven by a combination of the economy beginning to open back up and oil production curtailments across the globe. Aggressive actions taken by OPEC and Russia helped balance global supply and demand, but low oil prices were needed to shut in additional oil production. Within U.S. shale alone, oil production fell by an estimated two million barrels of oil per day.

For the second quarter of 2020, the Fund (Class A shares) returned 22.87% compared to a gain of 31.88% for the S&P 1500 Energy Composite and a gain of 36.61% for the Morningstar Equity Energy category. WTI crude oil increased 31.82% to end the quarter at $39.27 and Brent crude oil increased 20.92% to end the quarter at $41.27.

In the month of July 2020, crude prices rose 2.76% to close the month at $40.57. The Fund gained 1.97% in July, 1.92% ahead of the Morningstar Equity Energy category.

The trough in oil demand is likely behind us, given that most countries around the world have begun to reopen. We are a long way from pre-pandemic demand levels, but consumption is beginning to claw back. On the supply front, OPEC’s pledged 10 million bopd production cut combined with other oil production shut ins have balanced supply and demand and aided crude oil prices. With the U.S. rig count down over 60% since the end of March, it is likely U.S. oil production will take time to recover, which will further support crude oil prices domestically. These cutbacks in activity were essential to stabilize oil prices; however, it will likely take into 2021 to normalize oil inventories as tanks filled nearly to the brim during peak pandemic. Going forward, we see incredible value in the energy sector and continue to focus on well capitalized companies with strong balance sheets and sound business models.

The Fund’s total returns for Class A, C, and I shares were -37.47%, -37.78%, and -37.04%, respectively, for the twelve month period ended July 31, 2020, compared to returns of -37.37%, -39.07%, and 9.23% for the Morningstar Equity Energy Category, the S&P Composite 1500 Energy Index, and the S&P Composite 1500 Index, respectively. Aiding relative performance was an overweight allocation to utilities, as well as selection within oilfield service. Detracting from the Fund’s performance relative to its Morningstar category was selection within exploration & production and integrated oil companies.

INTEGRITY SHORT TERM GOVERNMENT FUND

DEAR SHAREHOLDERS:

Enclosed is the report of the operations for the Integrity Short Term Government Fund (the “Fund”) for the two months ended July 31, 2020. The Fund’s portfolio and related financial statements are presented within for your review.

Market Environment

The 2nd quarter of 2020 witnessed an unprecedented global policy response to the economic shock caused by the COVID-19 pandemic. On the monetary policy side, after cutting the Fed Funds rate to the zero lower bound and launching another Quantitative Easing program (QE4) [starting with unlimited purchases of Treasury and Agency Mortgage-backed Securities (“MBS”)], the Federal Reserve (the “Fed”) has since extended the array of programs to buying corporate bonds (both investment grade and high-yield) and local government debt, and making loans to midsize businesses, as it strengthened its effort to “bridge across temporary (economic) interruptions” caused by the pandemic. Relative to the 2008/09 financial crisis led by the housing market, the health crisis was more damaging to economic activity given the shutdowns across the nation. US real GDP collapsed by -31.7% annualized in the second quarter. At the June Federal Open Market Committee (the “FOMC”) meeting, the Fed conveyed that it will be on hold for a long period as Chair Powell commented “the FOMC is not even thinking about thinking about raising rates”. The Fed also noted it would continue its Treasuries and agency residential and commercial mortgage-backed securities purchases. The Fed is looking to buy at least $80bn/month in Treasuries (and $40bn/month in agency MBS) over the coming months. Near the end of the quarter, risk sentiment was dented amid signs that COVID-19 infection rates were rising. In July, the market was also concerned about the upcoming expiration of certain fiscal stimulus provisions. Front loaded unemployment benefits under the CARES act largely replaced US households’ loss of income from layoffs and have supported consumer credit performance, from mortgage to other unsecured personal finances. There were no major surprises at the July month end FOMC meeting. Chair Powell commented on the slowing momentum of economic recovery since June, and emphasized the Fed’s support “until the turmoil from the pandemic and the economic fallout are behind us”.

Portfolio Performance and Positioning

For the two months ended July 31, 2020, the Integrity Short Term Government Fund returned 0.46%* (I Class shares, net of fees) compared to its benchmark, the ICE BofA 1-3 Year U.S. Treasury Index, which returned 0.13%. The Fund’s outperformance was driven mainly by MBS spread tightening and the yield differential between Treasuries and our portfolio of well-structured Agency MBS.

Market Outlook

On the interest rate front, in addition to asset purchases, forward guidance and (potentially) yield curve control should further anchor the short to intermediate part of the yield curve to the effective lower bound. Low interest rate volatility benefits Agency MBS investors given investors are short the prepayment options.

As it relates to MBS, prepayments have generally exceeded expectations over the summer months as efficiency gained in the refinancing processing have more than offset social distancing and limited originator capacity. Primary and secondary spreads remain wide implying potentially even lower mortgage rates in the future. Overall, MBS valuations remain attractive in our view balancing the prepayment risk against the lack of high quality fixed income securities with attractive yields over Treasuries, and the strong technical tailwind due to the Fed’s continued support of the Agency MBS sector.

*Performance does not include applicable front-end or contingent deferred sales charges, which would have reduced the performance. The total annual fund operating expense ratio (before expense waivers and reimbursements and including acquired fund fees and expenses) for the two months ended July 31, 2020 was 1.33% (annualized) and 1.08% (annualized) for Class A and I, respectively. The net annual fund operating expense ratio (after expense waivers and reimbursements and excluding acquired fund fees and expenses) for the two months ended July 31, 2020 was 0.80% and 0.55% for Class A and I, respectively. The Fund's investment adviser has contractually agreed to waive fees and reimburse expenses through January 18, 2022 so that total annual fund operating expenses after fee waivers and expense reimbursements (excluding taxes, brokerage fees, commissions, extraordinary and non-recurring expenses, and acquired fund fees and expenses) do not exceed 0.80% and 0.55% for Class A and I, respectively. The table and graph above do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions and redemptions of Fund shares. The graph comparing the Fund's performance to a benchmark index provides you with a general sense of how the Fund performed. To put this information in context, it may be helpful to understand the special differences between the two. The Fund's total return for the period shown appears with and without sales charges and includes Fund expenses and management fees. A securities index measures the performance of a theoretical portfolio. Unlike a fund, the index is unmanaged; there are no expenses that affect the results. In addition, few investors could purchase all of the securities to match the index. If they could, transaction costs and other expenses would be incurred. All Fund and benchmark returns include reinvested dividends.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

NOTE 1: Organization

The Integrity Funds (the “Trust”) was organized as a Delaware statutory trust on October 31, 1997 and commenced operations on October 31, 1997. The Trust is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 as an open-end management investment company, consisting of six series (the “Funds”).

Integrity Dividend Harvest Fund (the “Dividend Harvest Fund”), a diversified fund, seeks high current income with long term appreciation as a secondary objective. Integrity Energized Dividend Fund (the “Energized Dividend Fund”), a non-diversified fund, seeks long-term appreciation while providing high current income. Integrity Growth & Income Fund (the “Growth & Income Fund”), a diversified fund, seeks to provide long-term growth of capital with dividend income as a secondary objective. Integrity High Income Fund (the “High Income Fund”), a diversified fund, seeks a high level of current income with capital appreciation as a secondary objective. Integrity Mid-North American Resources Fund (the “MNA Resources Fund”), a diversified fund, seeks to provide long-term growth through capital appreciation. Integrity Short Term Government Fund (the “S-T Gov Fund”), a diversified fund, seeks to achieve a high and stable rate of total return, when and as opportunities are available in the context of preserving capital in adverse markets.

On July 11, 2019, the Trust for Professional Managers Board of Trustees approved the reorganization of M.D. Sass Equity Income Plus Fund (“M.D. Sass Equity Fund”) into the Dividend Harvest Fund and the M.D. Sass Short Term Government Agency Fund (the “M.D. Sass S-T Gov Fund”) into the S-T Gov Fund. The reorganization was also approved by each Fund’s shareholders at a special meeting held on November 15, 2019.

The acquisition of M.D. Sass Equity Fund was accomplished by a tax-free exchange of 9,056 shares of Dividend Harvest Fund Class A (valued at $132,667) for 11,552 shares of M.D. Sass Equity Fund Investor Class, and 1,590,201 shares of Dividend Harvest Fund Class I (valued at $23,328,248) for 2,028,807 shares of M.D. Sass Equity Fund Institutional Class outstanding on January 17, 2020. M.D. Sass Equity Fund’s net assets on that date of $23,460,915 ($132,667 Investor Class and $23,328,248 Institutional Class), including $1,680,047 of unrealized appreciation, were combined with those of Dividend Harvest Fund. The aggregate net assets of Dividend Harvest Fund Class A, Class C, and Class I and M.D. Sass Equity Fund Investor Class and Institutional Class before the acquisition were $97,963,208, $17,028,796, $39,415,971, $132,667, and $23,328,248, respectively, including total value of investments which includes unrealized appreciation of $12,507,734 and $1,680,047 for M.D. Sass Equity Fund and $153,980,390 and $13,479,720 for Dividend Harvest Fund. The Dividend Harvest Fund elected to maintain the tax cost basis of the investments acquired in the acquisition to align reporting of realized and unrealized gains and losses with amounts distributable to shareholders for tax purposes. Expenses related to the merger were incurred by the Adviser. Total net assets of Dividend Harvest Fund immediately after the merger was $177,868,890. Assuming the merger had been completed on August 1, 2019 (the beginning of the annual reporting period for Dividend Harvest Fund), the Fund’s pro-forma results of operations for the year ended July 31, 2020 were as follows:

Net Investment Income	$5,550,259
Net Realized Losses and Unrealized Depreciation on Investments	($7,257,845)
Net Decrease in Net Assets	($1,707,586)

Effective at the close of business on January 17, 2020, the S-T Gov Fund acquired all of the assets and liabilities of the corresponding M.D. Sass S-T Gov Fund in a tax-free exchange for shares of beneficial interest of S-T Gov Fund. As a result of the reorganization, the S-T Gov Fund is the accounting successor of M.D. Sass S-T Gov Fund. The reorganization was accomplished by a tax-free exchange of shares of M.D. Sass S-T Gov Fund’s shares, value at M.D. Sass S-T Gov Fund’s net assets for the exact same shares and value of Integrity S-T Gov Fund’s shares. For financial reporting purposes, assets received and shares issued by the S-T Gov Fund were recorded at fair value; however, the cost basis of the investments received from M.D. Sass S-T Gov Fund was carried forward to align ongoing reporting of S-T Gov Fund realized and unrealized gains and losses with amounts distributable to shareholders for tax purposes. Immediately prior to the reorganization, the Shares outstanding, net assets, Accumulated undistributed net realized gain (loss) on investments, Accumulated undistributed net investment income (loss) and Unrealized appreciation (depreciation) on investments were 1,671,762, $15,485,203, ($4,757,194), $46,989, and ($2,233,164).

Each Fund in the Trust, except for S-T Gov Fund, currently offers Class A, C, and I shares. S-T Gov Fund offers Class A and I shares. The Class A shares of Dividend Harvest Fund, Energized Dividend Fund, Growth & Income Fund, High Income Fund, MNA Resources Fund and S-T Gov Fund are sold with an initial sales charge of 5.00%, 5.00%, 5.00%, 4.25%, 5.00% and 2.00%, respectively, and a distribution fee of up to 0.25% on an annual basis. Class C shares are sold without a sales charge and are subject to a distribution fee of up to 1.00% on an annual basis. Class I shares are sold without a sales charge or distribution fee. The three classes of shares (two classes for S-T Gov Fund) represent interest in each Fund's same portfolio of investments, have the same rights, and are generally identical in all respects except that each class bears its separate distribution and certain other class expenses and has exclusive voting rights with respect to any matter on which a separate vote of any class is required.

Under the Trust's organizational documents, its officers and trustees are indemnified against certain liabilities arising out of the performance of their duties to the Funds. In addition, in the normal course of business, the Funds enter into contracts with their vendors and others that provide for general indemnifications. The Funds' maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown, as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Funds. However, based on experience, the Funds expect that risk of loss to be remote.

Each Fund is an investment company and, accordingly, follows the investment company accounting and reporting guidance of the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Accounting Standard Codification Topic, 946 Financial Services – Investment Companies.

NOTE 2: Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Investment security valuation—The Funds value their investments at fair value. Securities for which market quotations are available are valued as follows: (a) Listed securities are valued at the closing price obtained from the respective primary exchange on which the security is listed or, if there were no sales on that day, at its last reported current bid price; (b) Unlisted securities are valued at the last current bid price obtained from the National Association of Securities Dealers' Automated Quotation System. The Funds' administrative services agent, Integrity Fund Services, LLC ("Integrity Fund Services" or "IFS") obtains all of these prices from services that collect and disseminate such market prices. Prices provided by an independent pricing service may be determined without exclusive reliance on quoted prices and may take into account appropriate factors such as: institutional-size trading in similar groups of securities, yield, quality, coupon rate, maturity, type of issue, trading characteristics, and other market data. In the absence of an ascertainable market value, assets are valued at their fair value as determined by IFS using methods and procedures reviewed and approved by the Board of Trustees. Refer to Note 3 for further disclosures related to the inputs used to value the Funds' investments. Shares of a registered investment company, including money market funds, that are not traded on an exchange are valued at the investment company's net asset value per share.

When-issued securities—The Funds may purchase securities on a when-issued basis. Payment and delivery may take place after the customary settlement period for that security. The price of the underlying securities and the date when the securities will be delivered and paid for are fixed at the time the transaction is negotiated. The values of the securities purchased on a when-issued basis are identified as such in each Fund's Schedule of Investments. With respect to purchase commitments, the Fund identifies securities as segregated in its custodial records with a value at least equal to the amount of the commitment. Losses may arise due to changes in the value of the underlying securities, if the counterparty does not perform under the contract's terms, or if the issuer does not issue the securities due to political, economic, or other factors.

Contingent deferred sales charge—Class A shares of $1 million or more may be subject to a 1.00% contingent deferred sales charge ("CDSC") if redeemed within 24 months of purchase (excluding shares purchased with reinvested dividends and/or distributions). Investments in Class C shares (in any amount) may be subject to a 1.00% CDSC if redeemed within 12 months of purchase.

Federal and state income taxes—Each Fund is a separate taxpayer for federal income tax purposes. Each Fund's policy is to comply with the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code that are applicable to regulated investment companies and to distribute substantially all of its net investment income and any net realized gain on investments to its shareholders; therefore, no provision for income taxes is required.

As of July 31, 2020, the Funds did not have a liability for any unrecognized tax benefits. The Funds recognize interest and penalties, if any, related to unrecognized tax benefits as income tax expense in the statement of operations. During the year/period ended July 31, 2020, the Funds did not incur any interest or penalties.

For all open tax years and all major taxing jurisdictions, management of the Funds has concluded that there are no significant uncertain tax positions that would require recognition in the financial statements. Open tax years, which include the current and prior three tax years, are open for examination by taxing authorities. Furthermore, management of the Funds is also not aware of any tax positions for which it is reasonably possible that the total amounts of unrecognized tax benefits will significantly change in the next twelve months.

Premiums and discounts—Premiums and discounts on debt securities are accreted and amortized into interest income using the effective yield method over the lives of the respective securities.

Cash and cash equivalents—The Funds consider investments in an FDIC insured interest bearing savings account to be cash. The Fund maintains balances, which, at times, may exceed federally insured limits. The Fund maintains these balances with a high quality financial institution.

Security transactions, investment income, expenses and distributions—Income and expenses are recorded on the accrual basis. Investment transactions are accounted for on the trade date. Realized gains and losses are reported on the specific identification basis. Interest income and estimated expenses are accrued daily. Dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date. Gains and losses on principal payments of mortgage-backed securities (paydown gains and losses) are included as an adjustment to interest income in the Statement of Operations. Withholding taxes on foreign dividends have been provided for in accordance with the Funds' understanding of the applicable countries' tax rules and regulations. Dividend Harvest Fund, Energized Dividend Fund and S-T Gov Fund will declare and pay dividends from net investment income monthly. MNA Resources Fund will declare and pay dividends from net investment income quarterly. Growth & Income Fund will declare and pay dividends from net investment income at least annually. The High Income Fund declares dividends from net investment income daily and pays such dividends monthly. Dividends are reinvested in additional shares of the Funds at net asset value or paid in cash. Capital gains, when available, are distributed at least annually. Distributions to shareholders are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Income and capital gain distributions are determined in accordance with federal income tax regulations and may differ from net investment income and realized gains determined in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP"). These differences are primarily due to differing treatments for capital loss carryforwards and losses due to wash sales. In addition, other amounts have been reclassified within the composition of net assets to more appropriately conform financial accounting to tax basis treatment.

Permanent book and tax basis differences relating to shareholder distributions will result in reclassifications to paid-in capital. Temporary book and tax basis differences will reverse in a subsequent period. As of July 31, 2020, distributable earnings was decreased by $6,933,726 and paid in capital was increased by $6,933,726, for the Dividend Harvest Fund due to the acquisition referenced in Note 1.

Use of estimates—The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with GAAP, which requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of increase (decrease) from operations during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Common expenses—Common expenses of the Trust are allocated among the Funds within the Trust based on relative net assets of each Fund or the nature of the services performed and the relative applicability to each Fund.

Multiple class allocations—The High Income Fund simultaneously uses the settled shares method to allocate income and fund-wide expenses and uses the relative net assets method to allocate gains and losses. Dividend Harvest Fund, Energized Dividend Fund, Growth & Income Fund, MNA Resources Fund and S-T Gov Fund use the relative net assets method to allocate income, fund-wide expenses, gains and losses. Class-specific expenses, distribution fees, and any other items that are specifically attributable to a particular class are charged directly to such class.

Illiquid securities—A security may be considered to be illiquid if it has a limited trading market. Securities are generally considered to be liquid if they can be sold or disposed of in the ordinary course of business within seven days at approximately the price at which the security is valued by the Funds. These securities are valued at fair value as described above. Each Fund intends to hold no more than 15% of its net assets in illiquid securities. Of the illiquid securities listed on the Schedules of Investments, the following securities are considered to be restricted as of July 31, 2020:

High Income Fund	Shares/Principal	Dates Acquired	Cost Basis	Fair Value
International Oncology Care Inc.	1,631	2/22/18	66,476	27,287

NOTE 3: Fair Value Measurements

Various inputs are used in determining the value of the Funds' investments. These inputs are summarized in three broad levels: Level 1 inputs are based on quoted prices in active markets for identical securities. Level 2 inputs are based on significant observable inputs (including quoted prices for similar securities, interest rates, prepayment speeds, credit risk, etc.). Level 3 inputs are based on significant unobservable inputs (including the Funds' own assumptions in determining the fair value of investments). The following is a summary of the inputs used to value the Funds' investments as of July 31, 2020:

Viking Fund Management (“VFM”), the Funds’ investment adviser; Integrity Funds Distributor, LLC (“Integrity Funds Distributor” or “IFD”), the Funds’ underwriter and distributor; and Integrity Fund Services, the Funds’ transfer, accounting, and administrative services agent; are subsidiaries of Corridor Investors, LLC (“Corridor Investors” or “Corridor”), the Funds’ sponsor. For Integrity High Income Fund, JPMIM is the sub-adviser. For S-T Gov Fund, M.D. Sass Investor Services, Inc. is the sub-adviser. A Trustee of the Funds is also a Governor of Corridor.

VFM provides investment advisory and management services to the Funds. For S-T Gov Fund, VFM began providing investment advisory and services effective January 18, 2020. The Investment Advisory Agreement (the “Advisory Agreement”) provides for fees to be computed at an annual rate of each Fund’s average daily net assets. VFM has also contractually agreed to waive its management fee and to reimburse expenses that are not covered by the management fee, other than extraordinary or non-recurring expenses, taxes, brokerage fees, commissions and acquired fund fees and expenses, so that the net annual operating expenses do not exceed a certain rate. After November 29, 2020, the expense limitations may be terminated or revised for Dividend Harvest Fund, Energized Dividend Fund, Growth and Income Fund, High Income Fund, and MNA Resources Fund. After January 18, 2022, the expense limitations may be terminated or revised for the S-T Gov Fund. Expense limitations as of July 31, 2020, are stated below.

	Advisory Fee %	Contractual Waiver %

*For the period August 1, 2019 to November 28, 2019, the contractual waiver for Growth & Income Fund was 1.25%, 2.00%, and 1.00% for Class A, Class C, and Class I shares, respectively. For the period August 1, 2019 to November 28, 2019, the contractual waiver for High Income Fund was 0.89%, 1.64%, and 0.64% for Class A, Class C, and Class I shares, respectively.

VFM and affiliated service providers may also voluntarily waive fees or reimburse expenses not required under the advisory or other contracts from time to time. NOTE 8: Principal Risks

The High Income Fund may be invested in lower-rated debt securities that have a higher risk of default or loss of value since these securities may be sensitive to economic changes, political changes or adverse developments specific to the issuer.

The MNA Resources Fund invests significantly in relatively few sectors, primarily the energy sector, and has more exposure to the price movement of this sector than funds that diversify their investments among many sectors.

NOTE 9: Subsequent Events

The Funds are required to recognize in the financial statements the effects of all subsequent events that provide additional evidence about conditions that existed at the date of the Statements of Assets and Liabilities. For non-recognized subsequent events that must be disclosed to keep the financial statements from being misleading, the Funds are required to disclose the nature of the event as well as an estimate of its financial effect, or a statement that such an estimate cannot be made. Management has evaluated the impact of all subsequent events on the Funds through the issuance date of these financial statements and has noted no such events requiring disclosure.

NOTE 10. Recent Accounting Pronouncements:

In March 2017, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued Accounting Standards ("ASU") Update No. 2017-08 "Premium Amortization on Purchased Callable Debt Securities" ("ASU 2017-08"), which shortens the premium amortization period for purchased non-contingently callable debt securities. ASU 2017-08 specifies that the premium amortization period ends at the earliest call date, for purchased non-contingently callable debt securities. ASU 2017-08 is effective for fiscal years, and interim periods within those fiscal years, beginning after December 15, 2018. The Funds have adopted ASU 2017-08. Basis for Opinion

These financial statements are the responsibility of the Funds’ management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Funds’ financial statements based on our audits. We are a public accounting firm registered with the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) (“PCAOB”) and are required to be independent with respect to the Funds in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement whether due to error or fraud.

Our audits included performing procedures to assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to error or fraud, and performing procedures that respond to those risks. Such procedures included examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our procedures included confirmation of securities owned as of July 31, 2020, by correspondence with the custodian and brokers or by other appropriate auditing procedures where replies from brokers or counterparties were not received. Our audits also included evaluating the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

We have served as the auditor of one or more investment companies advised by Viking Fund Management since 2009.

EXPENSE EXAMPLE (unaudited)

As a shareholder of the Funds, you incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs, including sales charges (loads), redemption fees and exchange fees; and (2) ongoing costs, including management fees, distribution (12b-1) fees and other Funds expenses. This example is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds. The example is based on an investment of $1,000 invested at the beginning of the one-half year period shown below and held for the entire one-half year period.

The section in the table under the heading “Actual” provides information about actual account values and actual expenses. You may use the information in these columns together with the amount you invested to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an account value of $8,600 divided by $1,000 equals 8.6), then multiply the result by the number in the appropriate column for your share class in the column entitled “Expenses Paid During Period” to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

The section in the table under the heading “Hypothetical (5% return before expenses)” provides information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Funds’ actual expense ratios and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Funds’ actual returns. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in the Funds and other funds. To do so, compare this 5% hypothetical example with the 5% hypothetical examples that appear in the shareholder reports of the other funds.

Please note that the expenses shown in the table are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect any transactional costs, such as sales charges (loads), redemption fees, or exchange fees. Therefore, the section in the table under the heading “Hypothetical (5% return before expenses)” is useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if these transactional costs were included, your costs would have been higher.
